

2007 Scholarships Awarded

The Asphalt Pavement Association presented a total of six scholarships at their annual meeting in Portland on November 30th. The scholarships were worth $2,000 each and were presented to outstanding students from Oregon State University (OSU) and Oregon Institute of Technology (OIT).

Gary Baker of Baker Rock Resources presented the Gary A. and Dal L. Baker/Baker Rock Resources scholarship to Aaron Schuff. Aaron is a junior in civil engineering at OSU.

Matt Seehawer, Oregon Mainline Paving, and Jason White, Wildish Sand and Gravel, presented the Asphalt Pavement Association of Oregon Scholarships. The recipients included; Matt Morneault, a junior in civil engineering at OSU, Derek Manwell, a junior in civil engineering at OSU, Kevin Severson a junior in civil engineering at OSU, Brittany Garton a senior in civil engineering at OIT, and Jared Lowther, a senior in civil engineering at OIT.

More information on the scholarship program and other award winners can be viewed under the Awards section of our website.